The Bay Islands of Roatan, Utila, Guanaja and Cayos Cochinos lie off the Honduras mainland and along the world's second largest barrier reef. Roatan is home to one of the Caribbean's largest wrecks, the 300' freighter, the Odyssey. Whalesharks, manta rays and dolphins are more commonly encountered in Utila's waters where the continental shelf drops vertically to over 3,300 feet. More frequent in the months March-April and August-September, the Whale Shark is regularly sighted around the Island of Utila and unlike dolphins or other fish which tend to school or travel in pods, are usually solitary. That said, it is not uncommon for 5 or more singular Whale Sharks to be sighted in a single day along the northern shores of Utila.

An elegantly designed property, Laguna Beach is set on a palm fringed peninsula dividing a tranquil mangrove lagoon and the warm Caribbean Sea. This quaint resort provides much privacy with their bungalow style accommodations nestled on the lagoons edge, for a perfect view of Utila's tropical sunset. The beautiful ocean view restaurant and bar, built from natural woods, continues the resort's rustic theme that compliments the island ambience Utila is famous for. Utila sits on top of the second largest fringing coral reef in the world making Laguna Beach a diver's paradise.
